

Grant Recipient

Dr. Jessica Cundiff
Assistant Professor
Psychological Science

Activities

- ❖ Presented research on perceptions of women-targeted professional programs
- ❖ Attended sessions on skills and strategies for thriving on the tenure track
- ❖ Participated in discussions about overcoming challenges in teaching, research, and service
- ❖ Attended a workshop on how to incorporate intersectionality into the classroom

Proposal

- ❖ Institute for Academic Feminist Psychologists, held June 7-8, 2018, in Miami, FL
- ❖ $350 for airfare, $500 for hotel, and $150 for registration fee
- ❖ I chose to attend this institute in order to learn about service opportunities, new teaching techniques and research approaches, as well as expand my professional network.

Outcomes

- ❖ Networked with journal editors and other faculty who share similar research and teaching interests
- ❖ Generated ideas for in-class activities related to intersectionality
- ❖ Developed research plan with an ongoing collaborator
- ❖ Plan to utilize my newly expanded network to pursue collaborations and support