Activities

- ❖ Gave a presentation on “Marking Absence in Eighteenth-Century Fragments” on a panel called “Tracking Changes in the Eighteenth-Century: Bibliographical Methods for Studying Ephemeral Printed Materials”
- ❖ Attended panels on pedagogy to research assignments/strategies for teaching eighteenth-century literature
- ❖ Attended panels on genre and bibliography

Proposal

- ❖ Annual meeting of the American Society for Eighteenth-Century Studies, on March 22-24, 2018, in Orlando, FL
- ❖ $435 for airfare and transportation, $170 for hotel, $170 registration fee, $162 per diems
- ❖ I chose to attend this meeting since it is the major national conference in eighteenth-century studies.

Outcomes

- ❖ Networked with faculty from other institutions
- ❖ Generated ideas for assignments, readings, and class activities for new Fall 2018 class
- ❖ Received feedback on research
- ❖ Plan to expand research for publication
